We are delighted to share with you that the organization of the Seventh Edition of The Golden Leaf India Awards: Southern Tea Competition (TGLIA: STC), is underway. This joint initiative of the Tea Board of India and UPASI has over the years proven to be a valuable vehicle to showcase the 'uniqueness' that is the South Indian tea industry in all its grandeur.

Many of us have been around since its inception and will recall The Golden Leaf India Awards [TGLIA] being conceived with an urgent objective to restore South Indian tea as a quality product in the consciousness of the consumer - domestic and international. Reflecting on the progress since 2005, we believe our efforts to create and build this quality product from the field to the cup has borne ample fruit. An improved quality product is a key manifestation of this initiative.

Over the last 6 years the competition has strategically developed the South Indian Tea brand highlighting its regional attributes. This has received strong welcome and accolades from discerning tea connoisseurs. Today the aromatic Nilgiris, the fragrant High Ranges, the floral Anamallais, the brisk Wayanad, the full bodied Travancore and the balanced Karnataka are known and appreciated as representing the interesting facets of South Indian teas. TGLIA, the first-ever tea tasting quality competition held anywhere in the world is appreciated for its metrics - content and methodology, in particular.

Finally, having impacted improvement in quality, this year we aspire to take the next step in consolidating the brand of South Indian Teas through thoughtful market messaging to showcase our winning teas in the national and global market place. We are confident this will firmly place South Indian teas in the consciousness of the global importers and consumers, in time ensuring our prize winning teas command premium prices year after year.

As always, none of this is possible without your support and faith in our initiatives. We look forward to your participation at the e-auction of TGLIA teas scheduled for 7th March 2011. We would appreciate any suggestion and thoughts on how TGLIA can serve your needs.
